

Healthier and Fairer Communities For All

A Government for faster and fairer climate action

Climate change is already driving increasingly extreme weather around the world from storms and floods to droughts and wildfires.

Irish emissions have begun to fall thanks to the climate law we campaigned for. But it's not fast enough and it's not fair enough, too many people are left behind.

Parts of the state are dragging their heels, big business is lobbying to delay or derail action and some politicians are sowing disinformation and division for short term gain.

Will you speak up for climate action?
Will you be a climate voter?

Elections give people power. This election gives you power.
You can tell every candidate and canvasser you meet:

"I'm a climate voter"

"I want a Government for faster and fairer climate action"

50 Friends of the Earth
Celebrating 50 years

Fast Climate Action must mean the Government leading the transformation of our energy, transport, housing and food systems so that clean, healthy choices are accessible and affordable for all.

Fair climate action must mean

- a better quality of life for everyone, not just for the wealthy
- Ireland giving our fair share to help those most impacted by climate breakdown
- putting people and the planet over profits of big business

Join us to press all parties and candidates to commit to:

1

Uphold the climate law at home, and champion fast, fair and funded action globally

2

Warm homes for all, with lower bills and no fossil fuels

3

Clean, affordable renewable energy for homes, not data centres and big tech.

4

Affordable, reliable, and accessible fossil-free transport for all

5

A fair deal for family farmers, to feed Ireland and restore nature
